 Subject: Complaint about irregular water supply in our area

Respected Sir/Madam,

I am a resident of Green Park Colony, and I am writing to bring to your attention the issue of irregular water supply in our area for the past two weeks.

The water comes for only an hour each day, and even then, the pressure is very low. This is causing great inconvenience to all residents, especially in the morning hours. Many families are unable to store enough water for daily use.

We request you to kindly look into the matter urgently and take steps to restore the normal water supply as soon as possible.

Yours faithfully,

Ananya Sharma

Resident, Green Park Colony

ESSAY Topic: Should Students Have Homework Every Day?

Homework is a regular part of school life. Some people believe it helps students learn better, while others feel it causes stress. I believe that students should not have homework every day, but only when it is meaningful.

Firstly, daily homework can become a burden. Students already spend 6–7 hours at school. Giving homework every day leaves them with little time to relax, play, or spend time with family.

Secondly, too much homework can cause stress and reduce interest in studies. When students are tired, they may not complete it properly or may copy from others, which defeats the purpose.

However, some homework is useful. Practice helps students remember what they learn. But this should be done 2–3 times a week, not every single day.

Finally, students should also have time to explore hobbies, read books, or play sports. These activities are just as important for growth as academics.

In conclusion, daily homework is not necessary. Instead, students should be given thoughtful homework a few times a week, so they can learn without feeling stressed.
